Jaffar Express power van, two coaches derail in Rawalpindi

By Mohammad Asghar

RAWALPINDI: Rail traffic on a major railway route was temporarily suspended on Friday after the power van and two coaches of the Jaffar Express detached near Nasir Railway Station in Rawalpindi, about one kilometre from the Rawalpindi Railway Station.

An inquiry into the incident has been initiated, with divisional officers tasked with investigating the matter and submitting a report.

The power van and two coaches of the Jaffar Express (40 Down), travelling from Peshawar to Quetta, derailed near Nasir Railway Station on Friday. However, no casualties or injuries were reported.

Sawrad Dhi Dawar, divisional superintendent of Railways Rawalpindi, said the power van of the Jaffar Express, which was the last coach of the train, derailed near Nasir Railway Station, about one kilometre from Rawalpindi Railway Station.

He said rail traffic was temporarily suspended following the derailment, but the obstruction was cleared shortly afterwards and train operations resumed. The Jaffar Express was travelling from Peshawar to Quetta.

The detached coaches were detached from the train, while the remaining coaches were sent to Rawalpindi Railway Station.

Divisional Superintendent Railways Rawalpindi Division Nooruddin Dawar and other officers reached the spot and supervised the rescue operations.

Earlier, on Thursday, the Counter Terrorism Department (CTD) Rawalpindi and Cantt police swung into action after an unidentified woman made an emergency call from a mobile phone to police emergency helpline 15, reporting the presence of suspicious people aboard the Khyber Mail train.

The informant was subsequently conveyed to the Railway Police Rawalpindi, and the train was stopped at Khanpur Railway Station in Multan, where it was searched. However, nothing suspicious was found.

Shortly after receiving the threat call, the CTD, Railway Police and local police swung into action and traced the woman who had made the emergency call.

The woman was taken into custody and questioned by law enforcement agencies, which later declared her mentally ill and shifted her to the Edhi Centre in Islamabad, a police official said.

The Cantt police registered a report stating that they had received a call through helpline 15 at around 12.30pm on Thursday. The caller had reported that a woman had informed the police that some suspicious people were travelling on a train heading towards Peshawar.

The police said that shortly after receiving the call, the relevant police personnel were informed and a thorough search was conducted. However, no suspicious person or object was found.

Al-Shifa diagnoses over 50 genetic conditions through DNA testing

RAWALPINDI: Al-Shifa Trust Eye Hospital will conduct genetic testing to help identify more than 50 genetic conditions in just 10 months.

According to the statement, the trust eye hospital has established a fully functional genetic testing laboratory supported by a specialist team.

It has received referrals from more than 30 doctors across multiple hospitals and cities, as well as different departments within Al-Shifa Trust Eye Hospital, reflecting growing demand for genetic diagnosis in complicated cases.

The Department of Ophthalmic Genetics has analysed 237 individuals from 225 families using specialised tests that examine DNA to identify the cause of inherited and other genetic conditions, many of which remain undiagnosed despite repeated medical investigations.

The department is also developing a genetic database of patients and families to improve understanding of inherited conditions affecting the local population. It includes rare and unusual genetic findings that could help improve diagnosis and clinical decisions for future patients.

Genetic testing can help doctors identify diseases when routine investigations fail, assess the risk of complications and guide treatment. Where appropriate, it can support targeted therapies or personalised medication while reducing unnecessary investigations and associated costs.

These tests are particularly valuable for families affected by incurable genetic conditions. Even when no cure is available, identifying the underlying cause can help doctors explain the disease, assess potential complications and guide patients towards appropriate care.

The department also provides genetic counselling and prenatal testing, helping families understand inherited diseases, reproductive risks and available options.

For families, a genetic diagnosis can bring an end to years of uncertainty, explain ill-nesses affecting relatives and provide a clearer understanding of possible future health risks, Al-Shifa Trust Eye Hospital offers these services free of cost in some cases and at highly affordable rates for others, making genetic diagnosis more accessible in Pakistan.

Dr Rutaba Gul said the department was combining modern technology, specialist expertise, counselling and a growing patient database to address an important health-care gap and bring hope to families affected by rare and inherited diseases. — Aamir Yasin

Awareness walk held in connection with Diabetes Day

ISLAMABAD: The Pakistan National Heart Association (Pinnah) organised an awareness walk in connection with World Diabetes Day on Friday.

The walk brought together representatives of civil society, media, students, youth and public health advocates to raise awareness about diabetes prevention and demand effective government policies to promote healthier food choices.

Muzawar Hussain, Health and Nutrition Policy Expert, shared technical evidence on the harmful effects of excessive sugar consumption, particularly through sweetened beverages. He highlighted that sweetened beverages provide excessive amounts of added sugar without essential nutritional benefits and increase the risk of type 2 diabetes, obesity and other metabolic disorders.

He emphasised that regular consumption of sugary drinks and other processed food products is contributing to the growing diabetes burden and urged the government to adopt effective fiscal and regulatory measures to discourage their consumption. One of the best policy measures is enactment of Food of Park Warning Labels (FOPWL). — Staff Reporter

SC issues report highlighting reform journey

By Nasir Iqbal

ISLAMABAD: The Supreme Court on Friday issued a report titled Journey through Reforms and Innovation highlighting a comprehensive account of the judicial journeys undertaken by the court from Nov 2024 to Sept 2026.

The report not just captures a series of interventions, but a structured institutional transition — from a system plagued by abnormally high backlog and long-stunted processes to one increasingly defined by improvisation, data, efficiency, and strategic direction.

The reform initiative was conceived in response to a clear institutional imperative: to address the rising pendency, restore predictability and consistency in judicial processes, and modernise the administrative and operational framework that support citizen-centric justice delivery.

The reform programme sought to reduce persistent case pendency, strengthen caseflow management, modernise judicial and administrative systems and improve access to court services. It combined targeted measures to improve disposal performance with structural reforms designed to sustain those gains.

The reporting period witnessed improved disposal performance, progress in long-pending case categories, expanded digital services and stronger coordination at national judicial reform initiatives.

Defined responsibilities and regular leadership reviews supported implementation. The next phase will focus on completing outstanding measures, integrating systems and strengthening the staffing and data capabilities needed for sustained improvement.

An 86-point Reform Action Plan organised the programme around eight functional areas: (i) case management; (ii) judicial reforms; (iii) resource allocation; (iv) public financial management; (v) policy development; (vi) public access and transparency; (vii) training and development; and (viii) data management and alternative dispute resolution.
